Competition Format and Rules

Formato y reglas de la competencia / Format et règles de compétition

As of SAT 17 SEP 2018

Youth Olympic Competition Format

There are three events at the Breaking competition programme at the Summer Youth Olympic Games Buenos Aires 2018: B-Girls, B-Boys and Mixed Team. Each individual event will have 12 athletes and the Mixed Team event will have 12 teams.

Competition format

- Preliminary Phase:
 - Each athlete/team competes in three battles in the preliminary phase. Their opponents are determined based on pre-competition seeding.
 - Each battle consists of two rounds. In all battles, the athlete/team with the lower pre-competition seeding performs first in both rounds, and the other athlete/team responds.
 - Athletes/teams are ranked by number of rounds won, number of judges' votes received, then by pre-competition rank
 - At the end of the preliminary phase, the top eight ranked athletes/teams progress to the quarterfinals. The remaining athletes/teams are ranked 9th to 12th.
- Knock-out:
 - Each knock-out battle consists of four rounds plus an additional round if both athletes/teams have won the same number of rounds and received the same number of votes during the battle
 - The athlete/team with the lower ranking from all previously completed phases performs first in the first and second rounds, and the other athlete/team performs first in the third and fourth rounds, and in the additional round if this is required
 - The losing quarterfinalists are ranked 5th to 8th based on the cumulative rankings of all their battles from the preliminary phase and quarterfinals
 - The winning quarterfinalists progress to the semifinals
 - The losing semifinalists contest the bronze medal battle, and the winning semifinalists contest the gold medal battle

Differences between the WDSF Breaking Youth World Championships and the Summer Youth Olympic Games

The competition format at the Youth Olympic Games has fewer number of participants.

Changes since the Summer Youth Olympic Games Nanjing 2014

As a consequence of Agenda 2020, Breaking has been added to the Youth Olympic Games programme for the first time.

Sport Rules and Procedures

Scoring

- For all events, the competition consists of battles between two athletes/teams. Each battle consists of a number of rounds. In each round one athlete/team performs first, then the other responds.
- Each round is judged by five judges against six criteria. The judging system produces a vote for each judge for each round in favour of one of the athletes/teams (red or blue), with a percentage figure indicating the strength of their vote in favour of red or blue. The possible vote scores for each round can be 5-0, 4-1 or 3-2 in favour of an athlete/team.

Tie Break Rules

- Within a round:
 - Ties do not occur as it is not possible for a judge to score a round as a tie.
- Within a battle (Preliminary Phase):

- Ties are not broken. If a battle score is 1-1 (rounds) and 5-5 (votes), then these values are used in calculating the ranking
- Within a battle (Knock-out):
 - If a battle score is 2-2 (rounds) and 10-10 (votes), then an additional round will take place. The round and vote scores from this additional round will not be included in the cumulative ranking. The winner of this additional round will win the battle.
- Within the ranking:
 - If there is a tie for any place, or to determine qualification to the quarterfinals, or to determine which athlete/team performs first in a battle, ties will be broken based on pre-competition rankings. In the case of determining who performs first, the lower ranked athlete/team will perform first.

Penalties / Disqualification Rules

The penalties and disqualification procedures are governed by the WDSF rules and IOC practice.

Protests / Appeals

Disputes shall be resolved in accordance with WDSF regulations and current rules. The WDSF Jury shall decide on matters before it in accordance with WDSF regulations and the current rules.
